Two Wrecks Take Place In County Sunday

Two wrecks occurred in Hancock County Sunday. The first happened on the Old Spanish Trail in mid day.

It was a collision between Norman De Ben, Jr., from South Beach and Anthony Bridges. De Ben was driving a 1950 Mercury according to Deputy Sheriff Sam Peterson. Bridges was driving a 1952 model coupe.

The two cars crashed at the sharp curve on the trail by Lala's Service Station.

Both of the men were charged with reckless driving.

The second wreck took place about 8 p.m. The two drivers involved were James Favre and Lee Saucier, both of Hancock County. Favre was traveling in a 1952 Chevrolet and Saucier was driving a 1941 Ford.

Deputy Peterson, the officer at this accident also stated that Saucier fled from the scene. He sent word for Saucier to meet him in Bay St. Louis. When Saucier arrived he told the deputy that he was not driving the car. It had been stolen, he said.

Peterson asked the man to remove his hat. When he did there was a large cut on the top of his head.

Saucier said he didn't get the cut in the accident. His wife had hit him on the head, he said.

She testified to this fact.

No one was seriously injured in the wreck but the cars were completely demolished.

The two men will report for trial in the case today.

Dr. Keefe Tops In "Jane" Here

The age-old tradition of stealing the show made a happy event of the latest Little Theatre offering here this past weekend.

A packed house saw the honors for the comedy "Jane" go to the male side of the cast.

Dr. Harold Keefe as Lord Frobisher brought to his role one of the most convincing, unaffected, naturally played parts possible. As the aging, slightly inebriated, would-be lady killer he received the audience's spontaneous approval.

The title role was played by Mrs. Juanita Miller, with others being taken by Karen Kergosin, Mrs. Phillip Foote, Joe Vigurie, David Treutel and Cleta Kay Miller.

Evidence of good direction was shown throughout the performance. This was the first such job to be undertaken by the Little Theatre's Barbara Quigley.

Also outstanding in this play was the emphasis on costuming, the beautiful gowns playing a star role in themselves.

The Sun Oil Company this week began its seventh exploratory oil well in Hancock County, a few days after the latest wildcat operation near Pearlington was halted.

Sun, which has leases on almost all the western half of the county, has been making such attempts since 1951. The proposed depth of this well is 10,700. It is located less than two miles from Sun's last effort.

The earlier test was abandoned by the oil company when no oil showed after the well was sunk approximately 10,000 feet.

Why Did They Ignore Dead Man? Boyter Asks In Cell

He sat in his cell dejected and alone, Howard Boyter told to a new sidelight to the charges against him.

He is accused of killing Novak, a friend who stayed in Hancock County. Persons say they saw Boyter with Novak with a board during argument.

He said, "When my wife was getting ready to go the second time about Roosevelt, Fayard and the Lee boy came up to camp. I just returned from I. Imagine. I invited her for coffee and they went with us and drank beer. But never once did they Novak's name and he was only 10 feet away from them. They were supposed to be the witnesses to the fact that I killed Novak."

Boyter stated that his wife is still seeking financial aid to help him secure the services of a lawyer.

"But if they saw me they claim, why didn't they do something about him?"

had gone up to the car. I don't know what he went for. The young Lee was sleeping. I had tried to wake him up but I couldn't. He was drunk. The old man was not.

"I am very nervous. I guess anybody would be if they were in my position."

As Boyter read the eye witness account given by Gaston Lee in last week's Echo, he said, "I don't know where Lee got this. I know I didn't hit Novak. I had no reason to. We were friends."

Boyter explained that the dead man was one of many moods. He said, "Many times my wife had put supper on the table and he would just walk off and wouldn't eat. He would sulk a lot. And when he was drinking he would get in a bad mood."

Boyter stated that his wife is still seeking financial aid to help him secure the services of a lawyer.

PRESIDENT'S FLAG—Fred Fayard, a member of the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139 of the American Legion, presents an American Flag to Father Toner at the dedication of the new hall held in Pearlington last Sunday.

Nearly 1000 persons attended services dedicating the new shrine of Our Lady of Fatima and the St. Joseph Parish Hall at Pearlington Sunday.

Open House followed the blessing of the structures by His Excellency Blashey Gervow of the Diocese of Natchez. Earlier the American Legion presented in ceremonies an American Flag to Father Raphael Toner, pastor of the St. Joseph Parish.

AUTO ACCIDENT—Deputy Sam Peterson is shown as he inspects the automobile of Lee Saucier, which was one of the cars involved in the wreck on the Kiln Road Sunday night.

Eastland, Colmer, Russell Sweep Hancock County In Gaining Re-Election; Light Vote Is Noted

STATE HOSPITAL BOARD HEAD TO MEET SUPERVISORS HERE TODAY

Forest Fowler, executive officer of the state hospital planning board, will meet with the Hancock County Board of Supervisors today at 9 a.m. to discuss construction of a new hospital.

The American Legion launched plans to build a hospital recently and the Board of Supervisors has taken up the lead. Actually, the board plans to renew an application for state and federal funds made originally in 1950.

Under the federal government's Hill-Burton act, the state and federal government will put up 87 per cent of the money needed to build a hospital.

Hancock County tried to get in on this in 1950. However, Dr. C. M. Shipp, the County medical director, explained the hitch this way:

The state was forced to build a medical school in Jackson because of a shortage of doctors. All funds had to go to this school.

"Therefore, no further funds were available for our hospital and health center building program. Now sufficient funds are available for the completion of the medical school and the Hill-Burton funds are now coming through, to be distributed to the counties for further building of hospitals in Mississippi.

Dr. Shipp explained that it takes about a year to prepare the application properly. He also pointed out two other considerations:

1. The state and federal governments will give money to build the hospital, but they will not give money to operate it. This takes about $18,000 to $20,000 a year.
2. The government will give the money only to a political subdivision. This means that only the county or city could build the hospital — a private group such as the American Legion could not get this federal and state money.

City To Hold Sales Tax Election Sept. 4

3 Year Old Waveland Asks Pipeline Permits

The town of Waveland has applied to the U. S. Army Engineers for permission to lay submarine gas pipelines in Bayou LaCroix and the Jordan River.

The request calls for three inch lines to be laid two feet below the bottom of the waterway 27 feet downstream from the Highway bridge at Bayou LaCroix and 34 feet downstream from the highway bridge on Jordan River.

The baby was one of 12 children of the Poyadou family.

Services were held from the Fahey Funeral Home and Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

Funeral services were held Wednesday for three year old Verna Katherine Poyadou, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward James Poyadou, who died at 527,000.

Commissioner Sylvan Ladner added "The money that the city would receive from the increase in the sales tax would be used for general improvements in the city. Such as street repairs and the blacktopping of other streets.

It would also be used for funds for the school according to the new equalization program, whereby the city has to provide more money for the schools than ever before."

"We need money to make badly needed improvements. We do not want to stand still in Bay St. Louis, we want some progress."

Bay St. Louis is one of the few cities on the Gulf Coast which has not increased its sales tax. From this increase in taxes Bay St. Louis would receive an annual added income of close to $27,000.

Commissioner Sylvan Ladner added "The money that the city would receive from the increase in the sales tax would be used for general improvements in the city. Such as street repairs and the blacktopping of other streets.

It would also be used for funds for the school according to the new equalization program, whereby the city has to provide more money for the schools than ever before."

This year's meet was under the patronage of His Excellency, the Most Rev. Richard O. George, S. T. D., Bishop of Natchez who welcomed the delegates to the Diocese of Natchez and formally opened the meet with a Solemn Pontifical Mass.

The Sixth Annual Seminarians' Catholic Action Study Week took place at St. Augustine's Seminary, Bay St. Louis, from August 15-18th with seminarians from the Ecclesiastical Provinces of New Orleans and San Antonio in attendance.

Senator James O. Eastland, Congressman Bill Colmer and Judge Dan M. Russell, Sr., carried their respective races in Hancock County in Tuesday's Democratic Primary.

Colmer polled the most votes in the county with a total of 2086. He was followed by Judge Russell, then Senator Eastland.

The results of all the precincts but Fenton, were turned in, that box was locked up with tabulations inside. The return on the box will be given out today.

All three of the candidates who swept Hancock County were re-elected to serve another term in the office they now hold.

Senator Eastland defeated Lt. Gov. Carroll Gartin by nearly 70,000 votes over the state.

Judge Russell defeated Cornelius Ladner, a Bay St. Louis attorney by almost a two and a half to one majority over the eighth district.

In a statement to the Echo Judge Russell said, "I'm available of this first opportunity to give public expression to my deep and generous support of my friends in Tuesday's election, whereby I was re-elected Chancery Judge of the Eighth District for the seventh time, carrying every county in the district by more than a 2-1 majority."

Congressman Colmer held a 3-1 majority over his two opponents Cleon Britton and Walter Lowry. Colmer's race was held over the sixth district.

Sportsweek

By GREGORY FARVE

Last week this column presented the feelings of Coach Lance Lumpkin of Bay High on the subject of what he expects of a boy who answers the call for pre-season practice. Now we turn this space over to his counterpart at St. Stanislaus, Coach Farley Day.

Coach Day said, "I like a boy to report for practice with his legs in pretty good condition. Two weeks before practice begins I write them a letter telling them I would like it if they started to run a little each day. I suggest that they run some short races and some long races. That is to build up their speed and endurance. As I told my boys the best football players in the country are those that are fastest in 25 yards."

"I stress leg condition because I believe it is the most important thing. A boy can get his wind in the proper shape if his legs are okay."

In his first talk of the season to the boys aspiring a berth on the Stanislaus roster, Day spoke on the game of football. He said, "Football is a give and take game. It is a game that has allowed many boys to secure a college education. You receive a lot more out of the game than you put into it."

Coach Day is a believer in the fact that a coach has to sell his boys football as a part of his job. "You have to be a salesman as well as a coach," he said.

He pointed out emphatically that a boy should take care of his equipment. And he also asked that the boys talk football. "When you are on the bus going to the field, when you are off of practice and any other time you have to yourselves I want you to talk football."

As for training rules Coach Day placed three requisites on his players. He said, "I do not want you to smoke or drink and I want you to get a good night's sleep every night during football. That means eight hours of sleep."

The Stanislaus head coach continued, "I believe that 85 percent of football is the desire to play. This includes tackling and blocking."

"I would like to see each of you boys improve one percent. That means as a whole we would improve 40 percent because we have 40 boys out for football."

After looking over this year's prospects, the former Most Valuable High School Player in Baton Rouge said, "This is a fine group of boys. A group that is anxious to begin. A group that is anxious to settle some scores of last year's games."

Lights Needed

It was called to my attention by an inside source that St. Stanislaus was unable to meet the expenses involved in improving the lighting system at their stadium.

This improvement is badly needed. A few lights at the field now hampers the play of the teams. The ball is not visible at all times.

Five thousand is the magic number. That is the amount of money it would cost to double the lights in the stadium. Perhaps a few civic minded men would be willing to take this on as a personal project. In Picayune Mr. Crosby proved a generous benefactor. He built the school a new stadium. Complete. And equal to a high school stadium. He had the foresight to see that this would be a great aid to the town of Picayune.

Where are Bay St. Louis' guardian angels? Surely we must have a few?

Kiln Returns To Football After 12 Year Absence

Kiln High School will participate in football this year. This will be the first team fielded by Kiln after an absence of 12 years from the game.

Coach L. C. Ladner will handle the team. He started his pre-season practice Monday.

Up to this date Kiln has three games scheduled for the season with four tentative dates. They will play Lumberton on Sept. 24 in their opponents stadium. They will meet Van Cleve on October 1, also there, and on October 15 they will play D'Iberville High here.

Plans are being made for a Homecoming game.

The boys who reported for practice are Larry Ladner, Russell Mitchell, Marv Lacoste, Huey Curel, Huey Henley, J. W. Bilbo, Bobby Bilbo, Jason Manfray, Cleveland White, Royce Shiyou, Gervis Moran and Merlin Naceise.

Organization Needed

A few weeks ago tragedy struck the Bay St. Louis Beach front when a little boy was drowned off the city pier. A hasty call was made for a search party and the response was heartening.

One thing was lacking for hours however - organization.

This is no one's fault for no one was really responsible. But it is food for thought. Perhaps there is need for some type of rescue organization.

These tragedies are a natural hazard of the waterfront.

So perhaps it might be wise to set up, on paper, two search parties - land and sea - with captains and equipment.

In other words, in the event of a call for a search party in the Bay men would be notified by telephone, and they already would know their duties. Perhaps one would be in charge of procuring lights. Another would be in charge of obtaining blankets.

And, of course, there would be "water teams" with assigned areas to search, some in boats and some in wading.

This does not need an elaborate setup, nor does it need a long list of men. The volunteers would appear. We know that from experience. But these volunteers must be directed to avoid loss of time or effort.

It's hard to say who should take the initiative in drawing up such a plan. Our recommendation would be the Red Cross.

Under John McDonald and a long list of sub-chairmen, the Red Cross has mapped out a complete disaster unit in the event of a repeat of the 1947 hurricane, or a similar tragedy.

This is the type of organization needed, although not nearly so large a scale.

It's a matter to be considered now, and not when the next need arises. For then it will be too late.

This Is The Night

Friday night the March of Dimes will bring its emergency fund drive to YOU.

The mothers will march, house to house, seeking funds for this worthy cause. Leave your porch light on. That will signal them that you have a contribution waiting.

It will mean that another child may again walk.

Welcome Back!

For the first time since 1942, Kiln High will field a football team this fall.

Here indeed is good news. The war, and rising costs, took a toll of high school football teams. But they should be re-activated as quickly as possible.

It produces a wholesome activity. Too many schools overlook this phase, feeling that they must either win or not play.

No one likes to lose.

But the idea is to play - to give the players sport and the spectators entertainment. If you win, that's even better.

Pearlington Boy Makes Hit As Hill-Billy Singer With Record

By GREGORY FAVRE

A nickel is dropped in the juke box. A record comes to the top. It begins to spin. The voice sings "Without You."

It's Norvin Kelly, Hancock County's answer to the nation's top hillbilly singers.

Norvin, who lives in Pearlington, cut two records for Columbia recently with the Jimmy Davis band. On the other side of "Without You," is "Didn't have a Home."

He said, "Since I was a kid I had the ambition to be a top hillbilly singer. I have never taken a lesson. I taught myself to sing and play the guitar."

Norvin has appeared on Ernestubb's program on the Ole Opry on three occasions. He has also made two appearances on the Louisiana Hayride in Shreveport.

The young, husky singer is a fan of the late Hank Williams. "I think Hank's old records will continue to sell. They are not given him a fair deal on his new records. They are cutting them off of a tape recorder putting the band behind them. And this is not doing him justice. Hank Williams will never die as a hillbilly singer."

Norvin continued speaking about the top stars in the hillbilly entertainment world. He said "They are all pretty nice. I know all of the top singers and band players. But the nicest of them all and the one that has helped me out the most is Ernest Tubbs. Every time I was in Nashville he gave me a spot on his program. Even though he could have gotten men with a better known name than mine.

"My biggest thrill since I started singing, came the first time I walked backstage at the Grand Ole Opry and met all the top artists."

Norvin explained the steady and increasing rise of popularity in hillbilly music this way, "They have gotten away from all of the sob stuff and eased on over to sentimental music and that put hillbilly music over. At this time I have been told by a man who knows hillbilly music is 60 percent of all the music played on radios throughout the country. It is bigger today than anything."

"Another thing that has helped is that now popular singers are cutting hillbilly songs. Take the Tennessee Waltz" for instance. That was one of the biggest hillbilly songs ever recorded. And it was made by both popular and hillbilly singers."

Norvin, who worked on a roving basis with Columbia, plans to go on the road soon, "making music full time," as he expresses it.

"My first record "Without You" now stands in the number three spot on the Hillbilly Hit parade in Houston and Dallas. I think I also have a good chance of getting with the Louisiana Hayride."

"In October my other record will be released. It is "Back in Your Arms Again" and "You Can't Make Me Live With the Blues." The latter is one of

Lakeshore Notes

By MRS. MALCOLM GREEN

Mr. and Mrs. Leandro Villamil and grandson, Irvin Green, Jr., returned home Saturday after a 3000 mile motor trip that took them as far South as Guadalajara, Mexico. In Mexico City they witnessed the procession in honor of the Feast of St. Guadalupe, and attended the bull fights.

A benefit party was held Sunday afternoon in Gulfview Gym for St. John's Catholic Church. A large crowd attended in spite of the inclement weather. The party was sponsored by the ladies of St. John's Altar Society.

Arvne Garcia and young son A. J., spent Sunday in Lakeshore Springs to visit Mrs. Ryan, mother of Mrs. Garcia.

Eugene Strickland and his Uncle Malcolm Green made a record catch of 29 dozen crabs Tuesday afternoon.

Birthday congratulations to Mrs. Viola Garcia and Irvin Green, Jr., who had birthdays August 12.

Mr. Harry Thomas visited her friend Mrs. Charles Brehm in New Orleans, last week.

Everett Peterson believes in the old adage, "It pays to advertise." In his spare time from his job with Wilcox Electric, Everett can be seen with a portable Victrola playing stepson, Norvin Kelly's newest recording to any, and all who will listen.

Mrs. Charles Peterson and Miss Hazel Yarborough motored to the Pearl Saturday to visit Mrs. Maggie Helwick.

Linda Garcia is still ill with a virus which has kept her in bed for the last four weeks.

Arvine Garcia of Gulfport visited his brother Gordon Garcia and family Thursday.

Thomas Clark and sons of New Orleans spent Sunday in their home here.

The small fry at Bordages Camp enjoyed the Bayou breezes Sunday and kept cool by swimming in the bayou. Among those making like a fish were Eddie Harlon and Pat, Helen, and little Johnny Bordages.

Last Saturday Leroy Garcia and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Garcia motored to Ocean Springs to visit Mrs. Ryan, mother of Mrs. Garcia.

Eugene Strickland of Chalmette, La., is a house guest of his aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Green.

This 5th day of 1954.

had a nice trip aboard the Chapman and Theresa Mae out of Bayou Caddy Fishing Camp Saturday. The party made some nice catches.

Eugene Strickland and his uncle Malcolm Green made a record catch of crabs when they caught 20 dozen.

Reliable reports from Pearl River are that the river is at its best right now and green trout and perch are biting plenty good. Good catches were made over the weekend from Joe Jones Camp at Gainesville above Logtown to the mouth of the river. Other places where boats can be rented are Carver's Camp at Nezant Landing, Tom Yearger's Camp at Bayou Bogue Homa at Logtown; Kelly's Fishing Camp on Mulatta Bayou.

Is the water salty? Must be—speckled trout are being caught up Pearl River as high as Logtown. Your writer caught one Saturday on the fly rod at Logtown—weight 3 pounds. Another fisherman using live bait caught 37 big ones last Friday near Waits House.

Word comes from K. S. Elliott from Kansas City, a traveling salesman that he expects to be here to do some real fishing soon. His home is in Monroe. Come on Kenny they're biting fine!

Eddie Heath has really gone to fishing again after the sailing season. He and his son caught some nice green trout Sunday.

Oscar Bragg an old fishing partner says he just can't get the time to go after them anymore—too many outboard motors to fix—got to keep the other fisherman going, says Oscar.

SOMETHING NEW—ask Aldean Mauffray to show you the new ice replacer—keeps your ice box cold and can be used over and over again. Swell, time saver, when in a hurry. No ice needed!
